

THE WORLD OF GREECE

ODYSSEY

www.odyssey.gr

May/June 2006

Greekyville: Los Angeles

The Art of Living

Odyssey's annual Best Hotels guide

The Spanoudakis Effect

Family Fusion

LIFE WITH THE EURO

THE KOSOVO TALKS

Also: A Rubens imposter? • Greece's transport networks • Olympia revisited
Lonnie Athens • George Stamboulides • Chris Sarandon • Nikos Koutouvides

ISSN 1106-1146

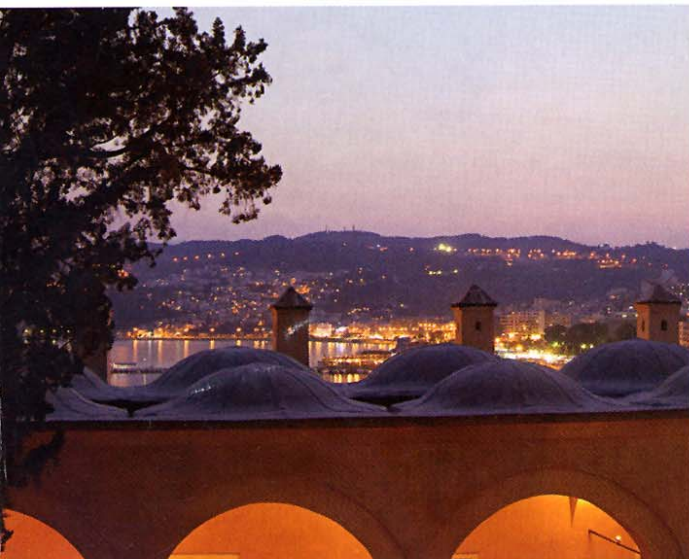

9 771106 114007

Imaret

Kavala

With its apricot-hued domes, stunning harbor views, plush furnishings and discreet service, the Imaret is fit for a sultan. Built between 1817 and 1821 by the founder of the modern Egyptian state Mohamed Ali, as a gift to his northeastern Greek birthplace Kavala, it operated as a seminary and later housed Greek refugees. In 2004 it was fully restored, retaining its Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Arabic influences, and thanks to hotel proprietor Anna Missirian, guests can enjoy the privilege of staying there. Each of its thirty rooms, including four suites, is unique: some have octagonal baths and fireplaces, others sea or garden views. The Eastern flavor is enhanced by the décor—oriental rugs, silk pillows, chandeliers, patterned lighting, urns, and little bowls of dried fruit. Gourmet Mediterranean dishes, created with produce from the hotel's own garden, can be savored poolside. Surrender to an aromatherapy massage, try the hamam, then slip into the divine indoor pool.

30-32 Theofilidou Poulidou St, 651 10 Kavala • +30 2510 620151/2510 620156
• www.yadeshotels.gr • email: imaret@yadeshotels.gr

Anemomilos Apartments

Folegandros

Anemomilos features sixteen open-plan studios, ranging between 35 and 45 sqm. and one suite of 55 sqm., with one bedroom, a living room, and kitchen. A specially designed unit with easy access can host disabled individuals. Built in 1993, all units have fully-equipped kitchen, modern bathrooms, and panoramic view of the Aegean Sea. Telephone and fax facilities, air-conditioning, satellite TV, panoramic terrace bar with music, swimming pool, private parking area and daily maid service. Start the day with a breakfast feast, served under the pergola with wonderful view on the Aegean or in your apartment: there's coffee or tea, fresh juices, cheese pie, cake, bread, butter, marmalade, Greek honey and yogurt with fruit and honey or fruit salads. Anemomilos Bar is a casual, welcoming spot for refreshments or a drink in a pleasant open space with panoramic view on the sea and the sunset. Music is played in the evening hours.

840 11 Folegandros, Cyclades • +30-22860 41309/22860 41407 fax • www.anemomilosapartments.com
• email: info@anemomilosapartments.com

Andronikos Hotel

Drafaki

Only a few minutes from the heart of Mykonos, Andronikos hotel pampers the weary traveler with the finer things in life, combining classic Cycladic design and helpful staff who go out of their way to make one feel comfortable and relaxed. Whether one's idea of a vacation is reclining by the pool, flanked by pine trees, or treating oneself to a rub down at the top-notch spa, Andronikos is the ideal haven to unwind before setting out to town. On nights when you'd rather stay in, this sensibly priced hotel offers fine Mediterranean dining and at its Ambrosia Gourmet restaurant and a poolside bar that serves until very late. Andronikos's 58 spacious rooms—dressed in soft pastels and fabulous artwork—come with every possible amenity.

Drafaki 846 00 Mykonos • +30 2289 024231/ +30 2289 024691 fax
• andronikos@myk.forthnet.gr • www.andronikoshotel.com